Choice is important

Go home after shopping

Pack small wrap with both hands Can't spare a hand to open the door

Go home after exercise

Sweat on hands, inaccurate fingerprint recognition

Going home at night

The corridor is dimly lit, and one needs to feel in the dark to find the key and enter the password

forgot password

Amnesia, forgetting to bring the key, being trapped outside the door is really embarrassing

No keys needed Fingerprint on Integrated handle, grasping the handle to recognize fingerprints, in line with ergonomic design, successful recognition. Press the handle down to open the door, and go home and enter the door in one go.

Encrypted IC card Intelligent and safer

Intelligent IC recognition, more suitable for special populations such as elderly and children with blurred or no fingerprints.

Fingerprints open at a touch

Semiconductor fingerprint recognition, Multi-touch

<0.001%

Anti peeping virtual password

The combination of virtual and real is safer

Entering any password before or after the correct password can still open the door to avoid the embarrassment of entering the password in front of acquaintances, and can also effectively prevent bad people from tracking and peeping

Remote unlocking of mobile phones

Remote unlocking with smart accessories

When a customer suddenly visits, the unlocking information is transmitted to the door lock through the gateway on the mobile app, and the unlocking information is received and the door lock is opened

Support temporary password unlocking

Visitors can open the door independently without waiting

Distance is not a problem when going out. If family and friends visit and cannot open the door in a timely manner, you can share a temporary password with your phone to unlock the door
